Harvey Leiderman represents public and private pension fund trustees, public companies, financial institutions, and private investors in resolving complex fiduciary and business issues. He currently serves as fiduciary, investment and trial counsel to some of the largest public pension funds in California, including CalPERS, CalSTRS, and the retirement systems of the City of Los Angeles and the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Orange, Santa Barbara and Stanislaus. He is also an investment counsel to the South Carolina Retirement System Investment Commission. In addition, Harvey has extensive experience in advising corporate boards and executives in bankruptcy, antitrust, corporate governance, hostile takeovers and complex commercial litigation.

Harvey is a frequent speaker for state, regional and national organizations, including the National Association of State Retirement Administrators (NASRA), National Conference on Public Employee Retirement Systems (NCPERS), the National Association of Public Pension Attorneys (NAPPA), the California State Association of County Retirement Systems (SACRS), the California Association of Public Retirement Systems (CALAPRS) and the Practising Law Institute (PLI). He regularly publishes articles of interest in national journals, including Crain's Pensions & Investments, Institutional Investor and Dow Jones' Corporate Governance. He also served as an advisor to the California Little Hoover Commission in connection with its 2011 report on the challenges facing California's public pension funds.

Harvey Leiderman is regularly recognized as one of The Best Lawyers in America as well as a "Corporate Counsel Super Lawyer" and "Northern California Super Lawyer" in the peer ratings compiled by Law & Politics magazine. He was recognized in 2011 by the Daily Journal as one of the Top 25 Municipal Law Attorneys in California. Harvey received his J. D. degree from Columbia Law School in New York, and his B. A. from Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, with Honors in Government Studies from The American University, Washington, D. C.
