SEGAL

ROBERT MITCHELL, CEBS
Benefits Consultant, Los Angeles

Expertise

Mr. Mitchell's responsibilities include strategic health care consulting as well as all aspects of the design, financing, bidding and communications of employee and retiree health and welfare benefits for clients in the public and Taft-Hartley sectors. This includes the analysis of technical data and negotiation with insurance companies and network administrators with respect to health benefit plans in both traditional indemnity and managed care environments.

Professional Background

Mr. Mitchell began his career in employee benefits and retirement plans as a financial planner in 2002. He transitioned to Health Insurance Underwriting, working as a large group underwriter for an integrated health plan in Ohio before joining Segal in Los Angeles in 2006. Since joining Segal, Mr. Mitchell has worked closely with clients and providers to help remedy areas of concern and identify areas for potential plan savings and enhancements and improved financing.

Education/Professional Designations

Mr. Mitchell received a BS from the University of Findlay, Ohio, graduating with three independent majors in Finance, Marketing, and Business Management, in addition to minors in Economics and International Business. He has obtained his California Life Agent License.

Mr. Mitchell also earned the Certified Employee Benefit Specialist (CEBS) designation from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania in 2009. Within the CEBS program, he obtained the Group Benefits Associate (GBA) certification in 2008 and the Retirement Plans Associate (RPA) certification in 2009.
